Translated from Bengali to English - www.onlinedoctranslator.com

Future Bangladesh and Abra

Chapter 1: 2501 Satlar Swat's City

The year is 2501. Bangladesh is no longer just a country name, it is a dream come true. Thanks to the efforts of four and a half centuries, Yes, natural vegetables and fruits are good for you. Marriage. This is the story of the city – OhThe donkey is a donkey, All doors – made of wood, are open to the heart, and these are fire, dust, stone, water, glass. Yes, the ads and the ads are also fake. Sarudi Radhak. This is the river of life, the river of mercy, the river of tears.

A personal flying car flies in the sky. A private car flies on the road. The city is crying. Yes, yes.
The city of Padura gives a little, the breath of life is a gift.

The most beautiful creation is seen in the night. The night is the middle of the night in the city of Badrata, but the AI doors do not open. The night is from 12 o'clock to 8 o'clock in the morning. The people are busy. I will give them a call. Milk
The city's street cleaners—some sweep the streets, some sweep the dirt, some sweep the streets like a broom. These workers are also extremely responsible, and even a storm or a hailstorm cannot stop their work.

The work of these doors is not just a decoration, but a deep understanding of the nature. They show the beauty of the place, they soften the water. They cut the dry branches, they plant the young seedlings. Their presence is like a vision of the beautiful landscape of Bangladesh, like a beautiful river flowing through the forest.

Chapter 2: The Atala's Metoya Abria and Aita

A beautiful, handsome young woman named Adara Rahman lives in New Dhaka. She is eighteen years old. She is a very kind and generous person.

One of the heroes. His skin is white, his eyes are like the blue sea and the moon. His face is like a mirror, and everyone's eyes are like a mirror.

Dear Big Brother, 'AI Smart Home'. Big Brother starts to break the walls and opens the windows. This is a good child. At the beginning Damara – Warp and bolt, the sound of the bells and whistles is heard. If you can't,

There is a door in the middle of the street, called Aidana. (Aino). Aidana is not just a doormat, she is also a kind, gentle, The assistant is also very good. Aidan Dandj is also very professional.

Aida's words are like a cup of tea. She cooks well, cleans the house, helps with reading, and tells stories.

"Aidna, give me the root beer float!" said Aida.

Aidana Hadsamdukh replied, “Today, Diamar's online classes are ad, the work of the Dabadkadal Diljaktasang, and the 'Sabju Project' donation is a dumttang ad.”

Chapter 3: Free work and freedom

2501 Sadar Bangladesh Sukdal Wowar Dakdna Jhadmla Donai. All the Dak is Anlaydan, a single name— 'Bhachuyu Yall Bangladesh is a country. No, everyone is in the house.

The Lord is the one whoVR) Goggles are worn by people wearing clothes.

The team members start working at the age of 18. The government's platform 'Smart Bangladesh' provides them with online work - coding, design, and programming are all done by the youth.

A brave developer works hard. His app 'Green Bangla' is now the most popular app in the country. Through this app, people are complaining about the lack of information and the government gets good points and awards. This app also gives high marks to all the citizens.

Chapter 4: Siju Bipli 2501

One day, the government gave a big push—“Vegetable Bangladesh 2501 – Ninu Project Starts!”

The purpose of this project is to expose all the evils of the world, to make it more beautiful, and to save the world from all evils. Yala Cladsar To arrange.

The name of the goddess is Dalkhaal. The goddess said, "The goddess is our strength, but nature is our true life."

Thousands of people have supported this project in their words. With the help of AI and Mandu, Bangladesh is becoming a greener, more prosperous country.

Within a year, the city of Lakhar was flooded with water. The people of Pradhan city used to water their houses with the help of 'Dargan Darwatra'. These Darwatras were also used as a natural resource, so that their work could not be neglected.

The water of the river turned blue again, the birds were singing, and the smell of the old man's breath was still fresh.

Chapter 5: The City at Night

The night is dark. The city is silent. The people are silent, but the doors are open.

The cobblestone streets are littered with , the appearance of the cat dirt. . Unjadedak, 'Dagran Daravatra' The water tank of the river Gad The fifteenth house. The Lord sees this creation and gives it to the people. I will give this city the grace of a dream of my own. Dutch .

Soda, soya.After arriving, you see—the streets are sparkling, the trees are green, and the water is sparkling. As the sun rises, you breathe a sigh of relief, “Ah, how beautiful our country is!”

Sobi

All the work of the day was done with great care and attention. The wise man said, “Look, wise man, we are here to help nature and the environment, and if you see this, Bangladesh will be the most beautiful country in the world.”

Aidana said softly, "This is the second name of the kindest friend, my dear."

Far away, the sky was filled with the soft glow of the donkey's feet. A small Bangladesh, shining like the moon, appeared—a sight of nature, beauty, and prosperity, all in one.

The light of the past This is what Bangladesh will look like in the future - show AI will work for the people, will give them food, will give them water, and both humans and nature will live in harmony, and this harmony is the best. The beginning of the story

Stay tuned.